اگرچه ہمیں ایک معاون ماحول کی ضرورت ہے، لیکن ہمیں اسے بنانا ہے۔
A supportive environment is needed, but we need to create it.

ENRICHMENT

• The first step in the process of creating a musical score is to write the melody. This is often done by hand, using a staff and notes. The melody is the main tune of the piece and is usually the most memorable part.

A melody is a sequence of notes that are played in a specific order. It is the main tune of a piece of music. The notes are written on a staff, and the rhythm is indicated by stems and beams. The melody is often the most memorable part of a piece of music.

• The next step is to write the accompaniment. This is the music that supports the melody. It is often written for the piano or guitar. The accompaniment is usually written in a different register than the melody, so that it can be heard clearly.
